Dear Parents and Carers,

Thank you to those who have approached us about becoming a school governor. If anyone else is interested please do email myself or the school office to discuss the role.

Y6 SATs run next week and on Monday the children will have a grammar, punctuation and spelling paper as well as a spelling test. On Tuesday they will have a reading paper and then over Wednesday and Thursday they will sit three maths papers. They’ve been sent off with message to have a good weekend and to get a good night’s sleep on Sunday! There will be a meeting on Wednesday 15th for Y6 parents in SQ at 7.30pm to discuss the leavers’ party.

This time last year we ran an online survey and it is now live. Please follow the following link and we will keep it open for the next couple of weeks: https://www.smartsurvey.co.uk/s/CaenParentSurveySpring2019/. It was really useful to see the results and even more so to read your comments – both the positive and constructive improvements – so please do take the time to complete it again.

This week various year groups have been doing some additional science activities and we have also welcomed in a number of visitors as part of our science week. Ruth from Sciencedipity came in today to work with children from Y2 – 6 and they looked at chemical reactions and made slime. Ranger Russ brought in various animals including a number of snakes and the children learnt about their habitats and how they have adapted to their surroundings. Y4 were involved in a spaghetti challenge today which got a little messy as they had to work in groups to build the tallest structure they could out of spaghetti and marshmallows and it had to support an [uncooked] egg! We also had Mr Liversedge and some Y8s from Braunton Academy in earlier in the week who set up various activities for the children. Photos will be up on the website soon.

Have a good weekend,
Mr Page
